Domestic Violence Project, Inc.

Canton, Ohio

Website: www.dvpi.org

Offers safety, compassion, hope and healing to victims of domestic violence and their families. They also provide transitional housing by placing individuals and families in homes and apartments when they are ready to take the next step in their healing process.

Foster Love Project

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Website: <https://www.fosterloveproject.org>

Shows love in action to children impacted by foster and kinship care through the provision of goods, services, and support. They believe all children, no matter their family composition, should be treated with dignity and self-worth so they are empowered to thrive.

Friends for Life

Memphis, Tennessee

Website: www.fflmemphis.org

Provides hope, help and healing for those affected by HIV/AIDS and seeks to prevent the spread of HIV and help those affected by HIV/AIDS live well. They do this through education, housing, food and nutrition, transportation, mental health services, care coordination and healthy life skills training.

House of Bread

Dayton, Ohio

Website: www.houseofbread.org

Prevents hunger for thousands of people by offering free, hot, nutritious lunchtime meals seven days a week. The House of Bread also provides its guests with referrals to other community services that may help improve their situations.

One-n-Ten

Phoenix, Arizona

Website: www.oneten.org

Serves LGBTQ youth and young adults ages 11-24 and enhances their lives by providing empowering social and service programs that promote self-expression, self-acceptance, leadership development, and healthy life choices.

Project Umbrella

Seattle, Washington

Website: <http://projectumbrella.org/>

Lends a helping hand to the homeless communities of Seattle (and New York). They get to know the homeless community and listen to their stories to inspire others to appreciate how much acknowledgement and a simple conversation can mean to the homeless community.

Puppies Behind Bars

New York, New York

Website: <https://puppiesbehindbars.com/>

Trains incarcerated individuals to raise service dogs for wounded war veterans and first responders, facility dogs for police departments, and explosive-detection canines for law enforcement. These dogs bring hope and pride to their raisers and independence and security to those they serve.

Rocky Mountain Kids

Colorado Springs, Colorado

Website: <http://www.rockymountaintainkidscs.com>

Provides a safe, therapeutic environment to work on healing the effects of abuse and neglect, and to help these kids turn their lives around. They empower abused and neglected youth to be more self-sufficient.

Zion Farms & Market

Orlando, Florida

Website: <http://www.infinitezionfarms.org>

Provides access to organic produce to their community. Through gardening, urban youth can experience nature in a way they likely have not before. Kids and adults can learn about basic agriculture education, environmental protection, and sustainability.
